To Meet at the Fair.

John Anderson my Jo John is a very timely little poem to read, by the older set at fair time. The occasion brings many people together, and friends who have been separated for many moons come together, and talk over by gone days. If you will take a walk over the fair grounds during the week, you will see old men coupled, sitting under the shade of trees, and if you pass close to them you will discover that they are talking of the days of "Auld Lang Sine," when at school, they swung their sweethearts, pretty girls, played mumble the peg, attended apple pealings and quiltings. Happy days never to be forgotten. But now their locks are gray, and they are more or less troubled in mind. Their children, some have gone to try the realities of another world, while others have found homes in distant States, and only occasionally a letter comes, to gladden the hearts of the parents. Come a little closer, John Anderson, you do not know how glad I am to be with you after so long a separation, and how much pleasure I get out of the fair. I do not care for the shows. I am here to meet and with friends of earlier days, a pleasure that I enjoy more than all things else. Come back to-morrow and we will renew our meeting and both of us go home happier men."

Mr. Ray Montgomery, Democratic candidate for the Legislature, the district being Adair and Cumberland, was in Burkesville a few days of last week. He met and informed the acquaintance of a number of citizens, and was very favorably impressed with the people of Burkesville and Cumberland county. He was given a cordial reception, and he will again visit the county before the November election.

"All out for the Fair Grounds."

Dallas, a twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tandy, this place, had the misfortune to get one of his ankles sprained last Thursday morning. He was running after some cattle, his foot greening with the result as above stated.

Last Wednesday morning Mr. Alfred Garmon and Miss Bessie Garrett, daughter of Charlie Garret, drove to the home of J. T. Lloyd and were married. They went immediately to the fair in Cumberland county.

Twenty-five or thirty moonlight schools were started in Adair county Monday night, and others will open later. The teachers of the county are very much interested in the movement.

Mr. J. W. Callison, with Buchanan Lyon Company, Campbellsville, was here a few days ago, demonstrating the use of an attachment to an automobile, making the machine run easier.

Mrs. Ed Walker, who was Miss Ellen Hurt before her marriage, died at Ballard, Mo., August 5. She was about forty-five years old. She left, besides her husband, one son. She was a daughter of the late W. B. Hurt, this county.

The hotels and boarding houses will be filled this week. Strangers have already commenced arriving.

Missionary Meeting.

There was an all day missionary meeting at the Methodist church, this place, last Thursday. Mrs. A. L. Mell (nee Miss Lena Grissom) of Eddyville, district organizer of the Louisville Conference, was present, and also Mrs. R. L. Cowherd, of Campbellsville, who is the district Secretary.

Mrs. Mell is thoroughly posted in this work of the church and she made a number of interesting talks. Mrs. Cowherd, who also has her heart in the cause, spoke. Both ladies gave full accounts of the missionary work, the amount of money being raised for the foreign fields, etc.

The meeting was not largely attended, but those who did put in an appearance, were very much enthused.

Paper of Rock candy has been left at this office. The owner can call.

Horribly Burned.

A little daughter, between one and two years old, of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Campbell, who live near the Dirigo post office, was terribly burned one day last week. The child was in the cook room, and in some way its clothing caught from the stove. Her body was burned almost into a crisp and one arm nearly off before the fire could be extinguished. Mrs. Campbell was also badly burned in trying to save the child. There is a chance for the infant to recover.

School Rally.

On Friday, October 8th, there will be an educational rally in Columbia. All the schools in Adair county will meet in this place and march in a body. The moonlight schools will also turn out. There will be several addresses during the day. The school work in the way of maps, etc., will be on exhibition. It will be a big day and everybody should be in Columbia and see the number of pupils in school in Adair county.

Fatal Accident.

Last Saturday morning week, about one mile from Greensburg, Mr. James Lawless lost his life. He was walking along the cliff, near Bluff Boom, his intention being to reach Greensburg and take the morning train. It was just about day light, and he made a misstep and fell over the cliff into Green river. One of his arms were broken and his skull terribly crushed. He laid in water two foot deep six hours before he was rescued. He was carried to one of the hotels in town and died in a few hours thereafter.

Dedication.

The pastors of the various churches and their congregations are cordially invited to be present at the dedication of the Baptist church on August 22. Dinner will be served and every body is invited to attend.

O. P. Bush, Pastor.

On Saturday, the 21st inst., the voters of Russell county will say by ballot whether they are willing for the county to issue bonds to the extent of 40,000 for road purposes. It would be a great mistake if the proposition lost, as it takes good roads to build up a county. Run pikes over Russell county and it would be one of the best in the mountain section of the State. Besides, all realty in the county would be greatly enhanced in value. We would be glad to learn of the proposition carrying by the proper majority.

Patrons, who live at a distance, and who will attend the Fair this week, are invited to call at The News office. The door will be open every forenoon until 12 m., and several hours in the afternoons.

Last Tuesday there was a water spout on Caney Fork, near Camp Knox. The streams could not be forced for six hours. There was also a heavy rain in the Dulworth neighborhood.

Mr. J. R. Garnett is having his residence repainted which will add greatly to the appearance of the home. Mr. Elmo Strange and Mr. Ed Willis are handling the brushes.

We notice that some farmers over the country have commenced cutting their tobacco. The Adair county crop is said to be good.

Rained Out.

Tuesday of last week Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Myers gave the following parties a trip to Griffin Spring, but when the autos got within one mile of the watering place a heavy rain came up and they were forced to turn back, the ground being too wet upon which to picnic. But they were not wholly outdone. Upon arriving at Columbia they motored to the Fair Grounds, and there did justice to an abundance of delightful edibles.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Myers and son, Robert Page; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers, Mr. W. A. Coffey and wife; Mr. H. V. Denver and wife; Mrs. M. E. Marcum, Mrs. A. D. Patteson, Mrs. Jo Russell and two sons; Mrs. Irvine Frazier, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Russell and two daughters; Misses Madge Rosenfield, Edna Lewis, Annie Faulkner.

NOTICE OF ELECTION.

The voters of Russell County are hereby notified that there will be held in Russell County, in the various precincts thereof and at the regular voting places therein, on the 21st day of August, 1915, an election to take the sense of the qualified voters of Russell County on the following question:

Are you in favor of issuing $40,000.00 in bonds for the purpose of building roads and bridges?

All legal voters of the county are entitled to vote at this election, which will be held by the same officers that hold the regular election.

Given under my hand as Sheriff of Russell County this 12th day of July 1915.

W. L. Calhoun,
Sheriff Russell County.

Mr. J. O. Ewing's many friends in Adair and adjoining counties will be glad to learn that he is recovering from a recent attack of apoplexy, which he sustained while attending court at Tompkinsville. Mr. Ray Montgomery, who was in Burkesville last week, was informed while there that Mr. Ewing would be removed from Tompkinsville to his home in a few days. It is generally believed that it will be sometime before he fully recovers, but it is gratifying to know that his chances to get well are good. He was interrogating a witness when the stroke came, and not after a speech, as we reported last week.

Eld. Virtes Williams, who is here visiting his mother, has a record as pastor of one Church that is surpassed by but few ministers. Eighteen years ago he became the pastor of the Christian Church, Stillwater, Okla., and has been called each succeeding year since. In talking with him, since his arrival here, he stated that he was living in a fine community, and he hoped to spend his entire life as pastor of the Stillwater Church, his first charge, assumed when he was quite a young man. He did some mission work in Oklahoma before taking charge of the Church.

Miss Julia Eubank entertained the following at breakfast Monday morning: Misses Warriner, Phillips, the Hogards, Lillie Judd, Dora Eubank, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Eubank, Messrs. Tom and Romie Judd.

Only a few weeks until the schools of this place will open. The management of the Lindsey-Wilson report that they expect a large attendance this year, and everything points to a prosperous year for the Graded and High School.

With the exception of wheat, which was about a half crop, Adair county will grow more feed stuff than for several years in the past.

WANTED.—Grey squirrels 40c. each. Send them at once.
W. T. Hodgen,
Box 232 Campbellsville, Ky.

As an evidence that Columbia and Adair county are remarkably healthy, there has not been a call at either one of the undertaker's establishments for more than five weeks.

Announcement.

Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Annie Margaret Dixon, of Glasgow, to Mr. Wendell H. Fry, of Kansas City, Mo. The wedding will take place in Glasgow this (Wednesday) the 18th. The intended bride is a daughter of Mrs. Ella Dixon, and a niece of Mrs. Bettie W. Butler, of this place. Miss Dixon has often visited Columbia, and is a favorite of the young people. The intended groom is the only child of the late Prof. W. H. Fry, who, for many years, was President of the Normal School. At present he is engaged in the railroad business. The couple will reside at Kansas City.

The recent rain insures a large crowd for the fair this week.

Arm Fractured.

Mr. T. R. Stults, of this place, who has been in the insurance business at Nicholasville for two years, met with a very serious accident a few days ago. He was cranking an automobile and the crank kicked, badly spraining his right arm. At first it was thought that his arm was broken. He was doing very nicely when last he wrote, saying that he would be at home in a few days.

Before you make a little jaunt into the fields to try your luck at hunting you had better provide yourself with a hunting license, which you can obtain from the County Clerk for the small sum of one dollar. A dollar invested that way may save you many dollars in fines. The game wardens are keeping a sharp lookout for such offenders, and they will spare none.

Live to the Age of 100.

In the "Interesting People" department of the August American Magazine appears an article about Henry F. Swanpack, the oldest Odd Fellow in America who lives at the age of 100 at Greenwood, Nebraska. Mr. Swanpack was a boyhood friend of Bismark's. His grandfather lived to be 117. Following are his rules for living to be 100:

"Go to bed early and get up early.

"Never sleep in a heated room.

"Keep fresh air in the sleeping room.

"Sleep out of doors in summer—winter, too, if it can be arranged.

"Drink plenty of fresh water.

"Use very little red liquor.

"As old age comes on take, each morning, a small wine glass of one-third glycerin and two-thirds good whiskey.

"Smoke as often as you please but do not inhale the smoke, or blow it out through the nostrils.

"If you are unfortunate enough to lose your wife, get another. It is not good for man or woman to live alone.

"Don't worry over anything. Worry kills more people than disease.

"Keep an even temper at all times. Be cheerful at all times.

"Keep the feet dry and the head clear.

"Never eat meat. A little chicken will not harm one, but must not be eaten too often.

"Eat plenty of fresh fish.

"Do not drink coffee.

"Keep away from sweet stuff. It ruins the stomach and kidneys.

"Take plenty of outdoor exercise. Walk a great deal.

"Follow these rules, and any normal man can live to be one hundred."

Mystery Party.

If you are looking for some form of novel entertainment, give a mystery party. Not long ago a hostess entertained at a party which was a great success. She led us into a darkened room, and, when all were seated, she brought in a shingle on which were placed three candles. This shingle was set on a low table in full view of all, and the candles were lighted.

When all was quiet, she began a weird ghost story, in the weirdest part of which the first candle went out; in a few minutes more the second candle went out, to the increased amazement of the spectators. When the story reached its thrilling climax and the third candle mysteriously went out, there was a rush for the door, and the hostess felt that her scheme was a success.

The candle extinguishing is easily explained. The wick of each had been previously cut, and each was cut a different distance from the top of the candle. This is done with a sharp knife, and the two pieces of the candle are then pressed together, so that the cut cannot be detected. If any difficulty is found in making the two parts stick together, it is overcome very simply by heating the wax very slightly before replacing.

Law and Gospel.

Editor News:

Please allow me a little space for a few words on law and gospel, or the old and the new covenants.

The law came through Moses and was an imperfect covenant. The new or gospel covenant came through Christ and is a perfect covenant. The old made nothing perfect. The new perfects forever all who get its full benefit, and this we may have in this life. We may be made perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

The old covenant had a shadow of good things to come. The new has the good things themselves. Under the old there was a remembrance made of sins year by year. Under the new our sins are taken away and remembered no more forever; no more consciousness of sins. Under the old, law was written in tables of stone. Under the new the law of love is written in our hearts and minds. Under the old it was an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. Under the new it is good for evil and love for hate. Under the old they used carnal weapons to defend themselves and to uphold their laws. Under the new our weapons are not carnal, but we overcome evil with good.

Under this covenant if a brother is overtaken in a fault, we are to restore such a one in the spirit of gentleness; but if he refuses to hear us, then he is to be unto us as a heathen and a publican. He is without and we are done with him. For what have we to do to judge them also that are without! do not we judge them also that are within? But them that are without God judgeth.

The following on the mission of the church is from a sermon by the pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Los Angeles, Cal.,

"The social problem is acute to-day, and the church recognizes the problem. The church must know and must declare the solution of the problem. Her great commission includes this command: 'Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I command you!' What did he command? To love God supremely and to love one's neighbor as one's self

"These two commandments elaborated contain the key to the whole situation. This the church must teach. The church cannot enforce. She is not the executor. The church is to point the way.

"The church must furnish the ideal for the social order, but she cannot legislate. She must inspire men to enact ideals into realities—even at great cost, even at the cost of life itself. Political power, the church has none, but she must furnish the ideal for political power.

"The church is the teacher, breaking her heart over dull and unwilling scholars, but with power only to pray and plead and lead. This is the church's relation to the social problem and eventually she will win."

An Unusual Summer

According to the weather bureau in Louisville the present summer has been a very unusual one. Never before in the records of the last forty-two years at the weather bureau has the thermometer failed to reach 90 degrees by July 10. The warmest day of the year to that time was in April when it reached 89 degrees. There has been an unusual amount of rainfall this summer, especially in the present month. The "weather man" does not place much credence in the stories to the effect that the canonading in Europe has been causing undue precipitation in this county. Rain depends on the condition of the atmosphere, he said, and can only come when the atmosphere is saturated, which is always fullest of moisture when the ground is wet and the streams flowing.

Is Sickness A Sin?

If not, it's wicked to neglect illness and means of relief. It's wicked to endure Liver Ills, Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, when one dose of Po-Do-Lax gives relief. Obituary of James T. Hughes

James T. Hughes, one of the most widely known and highly respected citizens of Johnson Co., died July 22nd 1915, at his home near Denton, Johnson Co., Mo. J. T. Hughes was the son of Absolum and Louisa Hughes, was born in Adair Co., Ky., September 7, 1848. His father died when he was but a child. On Sept., 25, 1854, his mother was remarried to W. T. Roberts, and 1855 with her family, came to Missouri and settled on a farm in Johnson Co., near Denton, where they lived the remainder of their lives.

James T. Hughes was an industrious and obedient son, and remained on the farm with his step-father and mother, until he grew to manhood. March 8th, 1875 he was married to Frances L. Wall and located on a farm in the same community where he lived, turning his attention to farming and stock raising in which he was eminently successful. To this union were born three children; Effie L., Manford R. and T. DeWitt Hughes. Mr. Hughes was not only a good and successful farmer but a wise and successful business man, and looked well to the interest of his family, and was successful in gathering about him a sufficient amount of this world's goods to make his home one of the most beautiful and attractive in the community in which he lived. While a successful trader he was honest and upright in all his dealings and made many friends in a business way and won the confidence and respect of all who knew him. About 35 years ago Bro. Hughes was converted in a meeting held by the Rev. J. H. Houx at old Bear Creek church in the community in which he lived, and United with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church at this place. Soon after he was made an Elder in that church. When the New Liberty Church was organized he transferred his membership, in which he was a ruling Elder the remainder of his life. He was an active worker in the church and a faithful leader of the Sunday School. The writer, who was his pastor for several years, takes pleasure in testifying to his faithfulness and devotion to the church which he dearly loved. He had been in failing health for some time and, realizing that his stay here on here on earth was limited, made the necessary arrangements for his funeral and burial, talked to the family about their individual interest and charged his children to look well to the interest of their mother. He told his wife and children that he must soon die and that, "All was well," and that the writer be called to preach his funeral. His life was a great success and leaves an influence that will be felt through the ages to come. He was a member of the Masonic Order, under the direction of which his funeral was held. At the time of his death he was 66 years, 10 months and 15 days old.

He is survived by his wife and three children, two-sisters, Mrs. Laura P. Moore, and Mrs. Cora Aakins, of Montana, and three-brothers, J. E., and George W. Roberts, of Denton, Mo., and J. M. Roberts, Montana.

His funeral was preached at New Liberty Church, Friday, July 23rd, at 2:30 p. m., in the presence of an exceptionally large congregation of sorrowing friends, using as a text, Acts 11 chapter, and 24th verse:—"For he was a good man and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith; and much people was added unto the Lord," after which the body was laid to rest in the Wall cemetery with Masonic honors. To the bereaved family and friends, we would say, "He is not dead but sleepeth." Z. T. Orr.

Despondency Due to Indigestion.

"About three months ago when I was suffering from indigestion which caused headache and dizzy spells and made me feel tired and despondent, I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. Geo. Hon, Macedon, N. Y. "This medicine proved to be the very thing I needed, as one day's treatment relieved me greatly. I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they rid me of this trouble." Obtainable at Paul Drug Co.

A Maine man is living on ten cents a day, marvels an exchange. Huh, than's nothing. An Ohio man is living on—his relatives.

If you will get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and observe the directions given therewith faithfully, you will recover in much less time than is usually required. Obtainable at Paul Drug Co. Ad

Exhibit Car of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission

THE Tuberculosis Commission equipped a railroad coach with an exhibit regarding tuberculosis and how to prevent the spread of the disease and has sent it to many points in the state. By means of pictures, descriptions, toy houses and electric devices the whole story of the cause, cure and prevention of consumption is told in graphic form for the passerby. In a little over a year 68,000 people have been reached in all sections of the state. Especial pains have been taken to reach teachers and school children so that this message of good health may be communicated through them to as many people as possible.

Administration Building and Infirmary, Hazelwood Sanatorium, Louisville

THIS building, with adjacent cottages, is the only place in Kentucky for the reception of any case of tuberculosis except for the Jefferson county institution, Waverly Hills Sanatorium and the little Jackson Hill Sanatorium at Paducah. White patients in all stages of the disease may here receive the essentials of treatment—namely, medical supervision, fresh air, rest and correct diet. The rates are $12.50 per week. Any person interested in obtaining treatment here should address Dr. Oscar O. Miller, Resident Physician, Hazelwood Sanatorium, Rural Free Delivery No. 2, Louisville, Ky. The head nurse is Miss Catherine Hoe of Louisville.

Prominent physicians from all sections of the state comprise the medical advisory board, of which Dr. Ap Morgan Vance is chairman. F. A. Sampson is superintendent.

ALMOST ANY CONSUMPTIVE MIGHT HAVE THIS

POSTS support a framework on which a floor has been built. Above this is a tent. A mosquito netting surrounds the sides. Inside, this room is large enough for a bed and a chair. This can be used in any except the severest winter weather. A double canvas top with eight inches space between will make it cooler in summer than the single tent. Any practical builder can erect this cheaply.

Of course, Dan Cupid promotes marriages, but he ought to give some credit to the old-fashioned porch swing.

Home Treatment For Tuberculosis In Summer

BUILD a floor on a dry bit of ground. It is best to have it raised a few inches above the ground. Erect a tent over it, get a reclining chair and some simple furniture, and you are ready for a cheerful life at home while you fight that dread enemy, the Great White Plague.

Visiting Nurse Saves Her Eyesight

THIS woman with an infected eye was found by a nurse representing the state tuberculosis commission. The nurse secured for her proper medical treatment and showed the woman how to care for herself. Her eyesight was saved. If she had not been found by the nurse she would have delayed visiting the physician till her case had been hopeless.

Insuring a Family

THIS consumptive girl lived in a little house with her parents and four brothers and a sister. When the visiting nurse of the city called upon her she found the whole family in danger of contracting tuberculosis from the young woman through ignorance of the proper methods of caring for the patient. The nurse instructed the members of the family about the preparation of the girl's food and the care of her room, so as to give her every chance for life. Most important of all, the nurse showed how the disease—tuberculosis—is spread from one person to another through the spit and spray from the mouth of a consumptive. They were taught that all of the expectorations should be caught in paper boxes or napkins and burned. Those instructions practically insure the lives of the other members of the family.

This is the "Thornhill" Wagon—the Wagon that Must Make Good

The best known materials—the labor of master workmen—the aid of the most ingenious modern machinery have been employed to make the Thornhill wagon.

The wheels are made with excessive care. For the spokes the manufacturers use the finest hickory—machine driven to insure the right dish. The hubs are of oak, thoroughly seasoned and banded with double refined sable iron.

The bolsters are of the best white oak. They have an iron plate at top and bottom, riveted through and through—multiplying their strength.

The "Thornhill" has a malleable front hound plate that is braced to the hounds at all points. This is an exclusive "Thornhill" feature. It prevents the gears from ever getting out of line and causing hard pulling.

"Thornhill" wagons are equipped with long sleeve malleable—non-breakable skeins that insure light running, and outlast any other skein. Each skein is fitted to its axle with a Defiance machine—infallibly accurate. This machine insures the right pitch and tuck, makes light draft a certainty.

The axles are of toughest nickory—the steel axles of the best refined steel.

The sides of "Thornhill" beds are made of poplar. It costs the makers more—but it holds paint better and gives better service.

Come in and see this wagon—sold under a binding guarantee.

In this issue we present the Democratic ticket, made in the recent primary, and feel that it is one of the strongest our party has had for many years. With Mr. Stanley at the head—a man of broad experience in the affairs of government, whose ability and courage has been highly valued by his Congressional district and our national Congress. No one need fear a draggy administration of our State's business after he has been inaugurated Governor. His associates on the ticket are men of recognized ability, whose devotion to party and good government is appreciated in no small degree. So far as we are able to ascertain the fitness of each and every nominee adds strength to the hope of good progressive government, and under such conditions will unquestionably receive a hearty endorsement in the November contest. In this comment we cannot cover fully the separate individuals of the ticket, but in the selection of Mr. James D. Black for Lieutenant Governor, we feel that our party has been exceedingly fortunate. He is one of the ablest lawyers in the State, a gentleman whose living merits the highest confidence and esteem, and who will make an official that will reflect credit on the position he will fill. The sweeping plurality of over 40,000 for Mr. Stanley, and the nomination of Mr. Black, whose position construed by the opposition, on the main point of contention was not in harmony with predominating sentiment, shows that our party kept in view the fitness of men as well as measures, and paved the way to victory on the broadest plain of conceivable party action. The party has selected its nominees in one of the fairest contests it has ever had, and so far as we can hear will give a united and enthusiastic support, which means victory next fall. In this Senatorial district Mr. R. B. Trigg proved the winner by a handsome majority. He is a gentleman well fitted for the position, and an untiring, effective party worker. His efforts, interests and popularity will add strength in the final struggle and prove the wisdom of his selection. In this Legislative district, our townsman, Mr. Ray Montgomery received the nomination without opposition—a compliment but few seekers of position are accorded. He is a young man of good record, good intellect, whose chosen field of work is the legal profession, in which he is making good. He is worthy and well qualified to fill the position intellectually, morally and politically. Likewise, Mr. Finis Strange was given his nomination for Circuit Court Clerk of this county without a dissenting voice. He is a man and a Democrat entitled to the fullest confidence, and capable of discharging the duties of the position he seeks in a most proficient manner. The party could not have made a better selection or put up a better man to win in November. From head to foot, from start to finish, we feel that Democrats can make an aggressive and effective fight and win in November. The Republican ticket, so far as we are able to learn, meets the approval of the rank and file of that party, and a strong effort will be made to elect them. Mr. Morrow, the Republican nominee for Governor, has been prominent in his party for several years, and was one of the leading figures that swung his party into the Taft column in the last Presidential contest. Mr. L. T. Neat, of this county, was handed the nomination for representative on a silver platter, as it were, covered with bouquets of sweet promises. "We'll give you another chance." He has represented this county in the past, and is popular in the ranks of his party. Mr. Mike Winfrey won his nomination for circuit court clerk over Mr. W. T. Price, by a decisive majority.

London, Aug. 12, (12:18 p. m.).—A wireless dispatch received here to-day from Berlin says that French aviators dropped bombs on Zweibruecken and St. Ingbert, killing or wounding several civilians. The property damage was small. Eight persons were killed by bombs dropped from the aeroplanes.

The French airship raid was made over Rhenish Bavaria. Zweibruecken is a town of the Palatinate, about sixty-five miles northeast of Nancy. It is a manufacturing town of about 15,000 inhabitants.

St. Ingbert is about twelve miles west of Zweibruecken. It is near Saarbruecken, which was bombarded by French aeroplanes on Monday.

WAR SITUATION.

Berlin reports a French airship raid on Zweibruecken and St. Ingbert, in Rhenish Prussia, to the Northeast of Nancy, in which eight persons were killed by bombs dropped from aeroplanes. The property damage is said to have been small. Saarbruecken, in the same section, was bombarded by French airships last Monday.

Frequent Austrian attacks on Italian positions in Cadore are reported from Rome, which declares, that the Italians have succeeded in holding all their recently taken positions.

On the Carso plateau the Italians claim a substantial gain in the Seibusi zone, although admitting they were unable to hold a position on strongly fortified heights well within the Austrian lines, which Italian infantry had captured in a charge. In Carnia small advances are recorded.

Former Premier Venizelos, of Greece, has returned to Athens, where the pronouncement of his policy, expected to have an important bearing on the Balkan situation, is being awaited. It is considered doubtful if this will be made until after the opening of the Greek Parliament on Aug. 16th.

The Paris War Office reports a renewal of German attacks in the Argonne, where the French lines were penetrated at one point yesterday.

Last night's assaults are declared to have been completely repulsed.

New York, Aug. 12.—Private advices from London intimate that the recent shipment of $20,000,000 gold to this country via Halifax is soon to be supplemented by heavy imports direct from South Africa and Australia.

The Bank of England had a gold reserve of about $20,000,000 sterling at Cape Town and from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 of gold to its credit in New Zealand. These reserves, it is understood, have been drawn upon to meet obligations in this country and shipments of the gold are said to be in transit. The South African gold may come direct to the port, while the Australian gold probably will be landed at San Francisco and credited to the local Sub-treasury.

J. P. Morgan & Company to-day professed ignorance regarding these imports, but would not deny that yesterday's transfer from Halifax might soon be increased from either source.

Remittance on London was again the feature of the foreign exchange market, demand sterling falling to the new low price of $4.74. Quotations on Paris and Rome showed no abatement of the acute conditions at those centers.

Certain of Success.

forts to produce munitions are different in method, but equal in results to those of England, which he recently viewed. The newspapers quote him as follows:

"We have an army which at the present moment is armed so as to withstand any shock, an army, which, on the other hand is capable of making a strong effective. Its morale is good, that is to save the army is prepared to remain as it is if necessary.

"Every day our strength grows both in England and in France. Notwithstanding the formidable resources at the disposal of Germany, it is not possible that the resources of the Allies will not assure them when the time is ripe for complete victory. What we have, what England has and will have—all the resources that she can create—will assure us supremacy. I am convinced of this because I know. Every day I repeat to my friends my conviction that we shall be victorious."

HEALTH OFFICER'S COLUMN.

BY U. L. TAYLOR.

It is very hard indeed to convince the people generally of the importance of these things. Some men will not be convinced with any argument short of thunder and lightning. I knew a man about the time telephones became common in this country, who denied that voices could be distinguished one from another over the telephone. The man to whom he was talking, knowing that the man had been separated from his wife, asked, where is your wife? He answered; Let me call her to the phone and you talk to her, and see if you know her voice. All right, said the man. The woman was called and she came to the phone. The doubter went trembling to the phone, took down the receiver, and said: "Hello, Sally." There was a cloud arising in the West, and just at that moment a terrific crash of thunder and dazzling streaks of forked lightning came in on the wire, tore the box from the wall, knocked the old man down. He rolled over on the ground a few times, then raised his head, looked up at the other man, and said: "That's Sal, I know her voice." He was convinced, but it took a double dose of thunder and lightning to do it. Others might be convinced in the same way.

Another thing that is important, is for our house builders to build the house to suit the number of children in the district, so that each child could have 250 feet of breathing space. That is what the law requires, but some of our houses are too small. I visited a school two days ago, where there were 48 children in attendance, and the house only large enough for forty. In cases of this kind there is always danger of a repetition of the tragedy of the black hole of Calcutta, where 132 English soldiers were confined in a room only 18 feet square, with only one window 18 inches square. They remained in there for one night and when taken out the next morning only 16 were living, and they were more dead than alive. I have no idea that these ignorant soldiers intended to smother their victims, but did not understand the first principles of ventilation. I think our educational board ought to have some good architect to furnish a model for our school houses, and then require all the houses to be built after that model. I have met with several schoolhouses with windows in the end, just facing the children in their seats, and have had to direct the teachers to shade those windows to protect the children's eyes from the strong light in front of them. We cannot be too particular with our children's eyes. In ventilating our houses we cannot afford to risk the impure air finding an opening through which to leave the room, but the house should be so constructed that the air will be compelled to leave the room as soon as it is discharged from the lungs of the children.

I want to call the attention of these teachers, and through them, to the children under them, to the fact that nearly all the great diseases that afflict humanity are caused by little things. The mosquitoes cause malarial troubles, the body louse is the sole cause of typhus fever, the bed bugs cause pellagra, the Rocky mountain tick causes the Rocky mountain spotted fever, and common house fly is the cause of very many of the ills of life. It is only a few years ago, that the people generally thought the common house fly was guilty of nothing except a general botheration, and it was very hard to induce anybody to believe that it was a carrier of disease. Not until the Spanish-American war did the people think seriously of the matter. But they had been annoying the people ever since the time of Pharaoh, at the time of the exodus. Noah missed the chance of his life when he failed to swat the two flies placed under his charge in the ark. Many have been the devices for the killing of flies and driving them from our kitchens and dining rooms even before screens were invented. One woman I knew, mixing business with pleasure before cooking stoves became common, had hung over the hearth where she did the cooking, two boards fastened together at the top, hanging open at the bottom, the boards baited lavishly with honey. The flies would gather in large numbers between the boards, and the good woman would suspend her cooking long enough every few minutes to clap the boards together, and kill what was caught between the boards, and a goodly number of the bruised and bleeding ones would fall among the cooking vessels, to be swept into the fire. This plan of disposing of the flies, while not a good appetiser, killed many of the pests. Then came the screens which kept them from the inside of the houses, but did not stop the annoyance on the outside. Only a year or two ago, in this institute, a controversy arose between two members of the institute, Prof. Turner and Prof. Dudley, as to the length of the life of the common house fly. Prof. Turner said that he had left a few flies in his room, doors and windows securely fastened, and on his return two days after, found them all dead corpses. He thought the cause of death was want of ventilation, but Prof. Dudley said they had evidently died from old age. He had learned from work on natural history that a fly never lived longer than two days. About this time I had made me one of these modern fly traps, in which I caught sometimes 10,000 of a day.

Appetite So Ravenous She Is Afraid Board Bill Will Be Raised.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 17.—Mrs. Leon S. Beam, wife of a well-known traveling salesman, who resides with her mother in Bardstown, came to Louisville recently for the sole purpose of expressing her gratitude for the remarkable accomplishments of the new medicine, Tanlac. She said:

"I have been frightfully nervous and so run-down. I was short of breath and slight noises which did not formerly disturb me, upset my nerves dreadfully. If I had any energy I really didn't realize it. I took little interest in anything, and when those distressing headaches came upon me I was almost frantic. My digestion was bad and had no appetite.

"Three or four doses of Tanlac made me feel decidedly better. I have used a whole bottle of Tanlac, and am improved in every way. My digestion is better, my nerves are in an excellent condition, and I have more color and feel stronger than I have in two or three years. Really, I have the most ravenous appetite, and I only fear is that my mother will be forced to increase my board bill."

INSPIRATION OF THE COUNTY FAIR

By Peter Radford.

When you enter the agricultural department of the county fair, you feel your soul uplifted and your life takes on a new power—that is the inspiration of the soil. You are overpowered by the grandeur and magnificence of the scene—that is the spirit of the harvest. You can hear the voice of nature calling you back to the soil—that is opportunity knocking at your door. It is a good chance to spend a quiet hour in contact with the purity and perfection of nature and to sweeten your life with its fragrance, elevate your ideals with its beauty and expand your imagination with its power.

These products as food are fit for the gods, and as an article of commerce they ought to bring tip-top prices on any market in the world.

The products of the soil are teachers and preachers as well. Their beauty gives human life its first entertainment, their perfection stirs the genius in artists; their purity furnishes models for growth of character and their marvelous achievements excite our curiosity and we inquire into the wonderful process of nature.

Before leaving the parlor of agriculture where nature is parading in her most graceful attire and science is climbing the giddy heights of perfection, let us pause and take a retrospective view. How many of you know that after these wonderful products are raised, they can seldom be marketed at a profit? Take the blushing Elberta, for example—they were fed to the hogs by the carload last year. The onion—the nation's favorite vegetable—every year rots by the acre in the Southwest for want of a market and as a result hundreds of farmers have lost their homes. Cotton—nature's capitalist—often goes begging on the market at less than cost of production.

It is great to wander through the exhibits while the band is playing "Dixie" and boast of the marvelous fertility of the soil and pride ourselves on our ability to master science, but it is also well to remember that there is a market side to agriculture that does not reflect its hardships in the exhibits at a county fair.

UNIVERSAL PEACE

This nation is now in the midst of a controversy as to how best to promote universal peace. That question we will leave for diplomats to discuss, but peace within nations is no less important than peace between nations and it is heavily laden with prosperity for every citizen within our commonwealth.

Many leading politicians and oftentimes political platforms have declared war upon business and no cabinet crisis ever resulted. Many men have stood in high places and hurled "gas bombs" at industry; thrust bayonets into business enterprises and bombarded agriculture with indifference. Party leaders have many times broken diplomatic relations with industry; sent political aviators spying through the affairs of business, and political submarines have sent torpedoes crushing into the destiny of commerce. During the past quarter of a century we have fought many a duel with progress, permitted many politicians to carry on a guerrilla warfare against civilization and point a pistol at the heart of honest enterprise.

No man should be permitted to cry out for universal peace until his record has been searched for explosives, for no vessel armed or laden with munitions of war should be given a clearance to sail for the port of Universal Peace. Let us by all means have peace, but peace, like charity, should begin at home.

GRASPING AT THE SHADOW

No man—especially if he is married—would deny woman any right she demands. Take the earth and give us peace, but why does woman long for the ballot?

When all is said and done, is not the selection of the butcher more important to the home than the election of a mayor; is not the employment of the dairyman a far more important event in the life of the children than the appointment of a postmaster; is not the selection of books for the family library more important than voting bonds for jail and court house? Why does woman lay aside the important things in life? Why leave the substance and grasp at the shadow?

Be it said to the credit of womanhood that it is not, as a rule, the woman who rocks the cradle that wants to cast the ballot; it is not the mother who teaches her children to say "Now I lay me down to sleep" that harangues the populace; it is not the daughter who hopes to reign as queen over a happy home that longs for the uniform of the suffragette. It is, as a rule, the woman who despises her home, neglects her children and scorns motherhood that leads parades and smashes windows.

ANNUAL MEETING OF AMERICAN PLOWMEN

National Farmers' Union Renders Unselfish Service to Agriculture.

By Peter Radford.

The National Farmers' Union will hold its annual convention in Lincoln Nebraska, on September seventh, and will round out the eleventh year of its activities in the interest of the American plowman. When that convention is called to order every farmer in America should pause and bow his head in honor of the men gathered there to render a patriotic and unselfish service to agriculture. That organization, born in the cotton fields of Texas, has grown until geographically it covers almost the whole of the United States and economically it deals with every question in which the welfare of the men who bare their backs to the summer sun are involved. It has battled for a better marketing system, rural credits, cheap money, diversification, scientific production, agricultural legislation and has carried on its work of education and co-operation in season and out.

The Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America brings the question of organization squarely before every farmer in this nation. Without organization the farmers can neither help themselves nor be helped by others and through organization and systematic effort all things are possible.

The farmers of the United States contribute more and get less from government than any other class of business. They have better securities and pay a higher rate of interest than any other line of industry. They market more products and have less to say in fixing the price than any other business and they get more political buncombe and less constructive legislation than any other class of people. The farmers can only acquire such influence in business, in government and in economics as will enable them to share equitably the fruits of their labor through organization and every farmer on American soil who desires to help himself and his fellow plowmen should rally around the Union.

POLITICAL GOSSIPS

When one class of people has anything to say, it has become largely the custom to make a political issue out of it instead of a friendly discussion, to print it in a law book instead of a newspaper and to argue it before a jury instead of to settle it in the higher courts of Common Sense. As a result, political agitators, political lawyers, political preachers and masculine women are powerful in politics and dissension, selfishness, intolerance and hysterics run rampant in public affairs, for when the low, damp, murky atmosphere of misunderstanding envelops public thought it breeds political reptiles, vermin, bugs and lice which the pure air of truth and the sunshine of understanding will choke to death.

We have too many self-appointed interpreters of industry who are incapable of grasping the fundamental principles of business and who at best can only translate gossip and add color to sensational stories. No business can stand upon error and might rules—right or wrong. No industry can thrive upon misunderstanding, for public opinion is more powerful than a King's sword.

When prejudice, suspicion and class hatred prevail, power gravitates into the hands of the weak, for demagogues thrive upon dissension and statesmen sicken upon strife.

The remedy lies in eliminating the middleman—the political gossip—and this result can be accomplished by the managers of business sitting around the table of industry and talking it over with the people. Interchange of information between industries and the people is as necessary to success in business as interchange in commodities, for the people can only rule when the public understands. Away with political interpreters who summon evil spirits from their prison cells and loose them to prey upon the welfare of the people in the name of "My Country."

PHILIP

Philip, the Macedonian king, while drowsy with wine was trying a case and the prisoner after sentence was pronounced, exclaimed, "I appeal." "And to whom do you appeal?" inquired the astonished monarch. "I appeal from Philip drunk to Philip sober," replied the prisoner, and the king granted the request and at a rehearing gave the prisoner his liberty. The people drowsy with the wine of discord oftentimes pronounce a verdict on public questions which they reverse in their more calm and deliberate moments. The next best thing to making no mistakes is to correct them.

VI.—F. C. Howe

On The Advantages of Free Ports

F. C. Howe, Federal Commissioner of Immigration.

Mr. F. C. Howe, Federal Commissioner of Immigration, who is one of the best American authorities on marine commerce, in discussing the relation of free ports to the development of sea trade said in part: "Ships will go hundreds of miles out of their way to avoid ports surrounded by a tariff wall. The only way, therefore, for a country with a tariff to compete in the shipping world with a free trade country is to establish free ports at strategic points along its coast line. Germany has done so, and in a comparatively short period has built up a carrying trade which before the war was seriously threatening England's supremacy. Hamburg, one of the three German free ports, now ranks as the second greatest seaport in the world, its total foreign commerce in 1913 being only $6,900,000 under that of New York.

The free port would offer great opportunity for financial operations, now made possible by the recent currency act. It would stimulate international banking, and would tend to shift the financial center of the world to this country. And America, by the logic of events, has become the natural center for the world's financing, just as London became that center several centuries ago, when it shifted from the cities of the Netherlands. But the financial center will only move to this country when it becomes a clearing house of goods as well as of money. For credit the world over is created by currently created wealth in transit or change so that even our financial expansion is dependent upon the opening up of American ports to the clearance of the wealth of the world. A port should not operate to yield a return on the investment, but to develop the prosperity of the country." In recapitulating the advantages, Mr. Howe brings out the importance of the free port in developing our shipping, and linking us with South America, Asia and Africa, and then concludes:

"The most important gain is the direct gain to America. It will cheapen commodities by bringing great quantities of goods to our doors for importation or export, as trade needs demand. It will stimulate the growth of exporting houses, which can hold goods for an indefinite period without the payment of tariff dues (often equal to the cost of the article itself) for disposal to meet the trade demands of the whole world. It will upbuild international credit, and shift to America an increasing and ultimately a predominant share in international exchange.

Finally, America is the natural country to be the counter of the world. Its seacoasts face every other continent; it is the greatest of all reservoirs of raw materials and foodstuffs. In iron and steel and standardized production it is in a position to compete with the world. But international trade (and this is always overlooked) must be reciprocal. It cannot be one-sided, and credit balances cannot for any prolonged period be paid in gold. They can only be paid by exchange of wealth."

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling, the start after the evening meal, if a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed.

Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which remedy to have on hand is also of vast importance.

The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

It is a liquid laxative- tonic, mild, and never gripes, is effective on robust people and can be given with safety to an infant. Children like it because of these gentle qualities and because it is pleasant to the taste.

It is the best all-around remedy you can have in the house for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, and many people like R. H. Morgan, Price, Tenn., and Mrs. H. C. Davidson, Warrance, Tenn., say they would as soon be without the necessities as without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

A Splendid Offer.

Until further notice we will furnish The Adair County News one year, the Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, one year, Boy's Magazine, monthly, one year, Farm and Fireside, semi-monthly, one year; To-day's Magazine, monthly, one year; and Household Journal, monthly, one year, all for $1.65. Works Wonders for Sick Women

STELLA-VITAE cured this woman, who had suffered for 25 years. Give it a chance to cure YOU!

WHAT STELLA-VITAE HAS DONE for one woman is well told by Mr. S. J. Hendrix of Pecos, Texas, who gratefully writes us:

"For twenty-five years I had from one to three doctors treating my wife for female troubles, and tried various patent medicines and she only received temporary relief. We tried STELLA-VITAE and to our surprise it restored her to better health than she ever had. It did a wonderful work in her case."

STELLA-VITAE acts directly upon the female organs and functions. It tones and strengthens the muscles and tissues, builds up and restores the whole system when run down and wasted by disease, soothes and adjusts the delicate nervous organization to that harmonious balance so necessary to perfect womanly health.

STELLA-VITAE regulates the functions peculiar to women, stops wasting and relieves dangerous suppression, banishes the terrors of those periods so dreaded by weak, nervous, run-down women.

STELLA-VITAE does not force nature, and its remarkable benefit at all times and under all conditions. Its use during pregnancy benefits both mother and child.

We guarantee the first bottle of STELLA-VITAE to benefit you. If it doesn't you get your money back. If it does, your dealer is authorized to sell you six bottles for $5.

Comfort In Poverty

A VISITING nurse found this old lady dying of tuberculosis in extremely poor surroundings. There was no one to care for her except her old crippled husband, and there was not sufficient money to provide good food or clean clothing, nor did he know how to make his wife comfortable. Charitable people were interested in the case, so that fresh bedding and food were provided. Frequent visits from the nurse have helped in making this old consumptive woman as comfortable as possible in her last days. Without the care of the nurse she might have been a menace to her neighbors.

Prime Numbers.

It might appear at first that every number can be divided by some number besides itself and one; but many numbers cannot, and if they cannot they are known as prime numbers. Of all the numbers having a value of less than 1,000, there are 168 that are prime. Of these twenty-six are smaller than 100, twenty-one appear between 100 and 200, sixteen between 200 and 300, sixteen between 300 and 400, seventeen between 400 and 500, fourteen between 500 and 600, sixteen between 600 and 700, fourteen between 700 and 800, fifteen between 800 and 900 and fourteen between 900 and 1,000.

Beggars of Costa Rica.

One day a week the beggars of Costa Rica are privileged characters—that is, on Tuesday they are allowed to beg from shop to shop. It is the custom for business houses to prepare for the weekly visit of the mendicants and to hand over to them small coins or articles of little value. In some instances where merchandise is given away the beggars peddle it about the poorer quarters and so earn a few cents apiece.

POISONOUS SNAKES.

They Are Absolutely Proof Against Their Own or Other Venom.

Snake venom is a transparent fluid, yellowish in color and of about the consistency of human saliva. When dried it takes the form of flaky yellow crystals. In this shape or dissolved in alcohol or glycerin it will remain unaltered and will preserve its poisonous properties for an indefinite period. No satisfactory chemical analysis has ever been made of it, but it seems to be a very complex albuminous compound. A curious discovery recently made is that the blood of venomous serpents is itself poisonous, containing as it does the principles that are concentrated in the secretion of the venom glands.

Venomous snakes are themselves absolutely venom proof. Rattlesnakes dosed by injection with large quantities of their own or other venom have shown not the slightest ill effects. Another remarkable fact is that serpent venom is harmless to human beings or other animals if taken internally. The late Dr. S. Weir Mitchell found that one-fourth of a drop of rattlesnake poison would kill a pigeon if given by hypodermic injection, but a pigeon fed with six drops a day for three successive days suffered not at all in consequence.

Professor Mangili, a pioneer investigator in this line, had an assistant who boldly swallowed all the venom that could be extracted from four large vipers. No bad effects followed. The same negative result was noted by Professor Baird, at that time secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, who ate the venom glands of a rattlesnake. As recently ascertained, serpent venom in such circumstances is harmless, because it cannot pass through the mucous membrane that lines the stomach, and it undergoes changes during digestion that allow it to enter the blood as an innocuous substance.—Every Week.

Restoring Kid Gloves.

First have ready several bits of clean, soft old flannel cloth, some skimmilk and a piece of old castile soap. Pull the gloves out straight and lay them flat on a folded towel. Dip a piece of the flannel into the skimmilk, rub it on the soap and begin washing the gloves, rubbing toward the finger tips. When the flannel shows signs of being soiled throw it into warm water to soak and take a fresh piece. Work all over the gloves in this way until the flannel shows no sign of dirt; then wring out a piece of clean flannel in the milk, but with no soap, and wash the gloves over again. Then they should be left between the folds of a fresh towel until the next day. The gloves will probably look awful when you uncover them, but put them on your hands and they will return to their original shape and color and, if you have done the work well, will look almost as good as new.

Pearl Barley Pudding.

Pearl barley is one of the cereals that is not much used except for thickening soups, but if used with apples and baked it makes a most nourishing pudding. Wash half a cupful of pearl barley and leave it in water overnight. In the morning put it in a saucepan on the back of the stove with a pint of water and a slice of lemon peel and let it simmer until within an hour of serving; then pour the barley into a deep baking dish, pare, core and quarter three apples, stir them in with half a cupful of sugar, a tablespoonful of butter and fill up the dish with milk. Bake in a moderate oven for an hour and serve with cream.

THE BATTLE OF THE TIRES

[Agricultural and Commercial Press Service]
It is interesting to watch the forces of civilization battling for supremacy. The struggle now going on between the rubber and the iron tire promises to be the liveliest contest of the Twentieth Century.

The struggle is a silent one and there are no war correspondents to write vivid descriptions of the conflict but the results are more far-reaching to present and future generations than the war of Europe.

The rubber tire has been maneuvering for point of attack for several years and has captured a few unimportant positions in traffic, but it has now pitched a decisive battle with its iron competitor by hurling a million "jitneys" at the street railways and the battle is raging from ocean to ocean. Upon the result of the struggle depends the future of the rubber tire. If it is compelled to retreat, its doom is sealed, but if it wins the battle it will revolutionize the transportation methods of this nation.

If the rubber tire conquers the street traffic its next struggle is with the railroads of the country, and then the greatest battle between economic forces ever fought out on the face of this earth is on, for iron is the undisputed master in transportation, and is fortified behind billions of dollars, and millions of men.

Stephenson applied the steel tire to an iron rail in 1814, but it was 1869 before the golden spike was driven at Promontory Point, which bound the country together with bands of steel. It took the iron tire fifty-five years to creep from ocean to ocean, but the rubber tire while warm from the creative mind of the inventive genius sped across the continent like an arrow shot from the bow of Ulysses. The roadbed was already prepared and therein lies the power of the rubber tire over that of iron, for government builds and maintains the public highway.

But iron is a stubborn metal and it has mastered every wheel that turns; has fought battles with every element above and beneath the earth and has never tasted the wormwood of defeat, and when rubber huris its full force against this monarch of the Mineral Kingdom, it may rebound to the factory stunned beyond recovery.

The rubber tire first made its appearance on the bicycle, but it proved a frivolous servant and was dismissed for incompetency. It has always been too much inclined to revel in luxury to be taken seriously as a utility machine and its reputation is not one to inspire confidence in heavy traffic performance.

But to those who care to waft into dreamland, it is enchanting to note that there will be a marvelous difference between a rubber and an iron age. The rubber tire will scatter the cities throughout the valleys for with transportation at every man's door, why a city? It will traverse the continent with a net work of Macadam highways as beautiful as the boulevard built by Napoleon. It will paralyze the law making bodies of this nation for how could the legislatures run without the railroads to operate on?

FEDERAL INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

By Peter Radford.

The recent investigation of the United States Commission of Industrial Relations brought together the extremes of society and has given the public an opportunity to view the representatives of distinct classes, side by side, and to study their views in parallel columns.

Capital and labor have always been glaring at each other over gulfs of misunderstanding and if the Federal Industrial Commission attempts to bridge the chasm, it will render the public a distinct service.

The farmer has been sitting on the fence watching capital and labor fight for many years and incidentally furnishing the sinews of war and it is quite gratifying to find them talking with, instead of about, each other. When honest men smile and look into each other's souls, it always makes the world better and far more satisfactory to the farmer, who in the end, bears the burden of conflict, than resolutions, speeches or pamphlets containing charges and counter-charges.

The love for justice makes the whole world kin. Understanding is an arbiter far more powerful than the mandates of government, for there is no authority quite so commanding as an honest conscience; there is no decree quite so binding as that of the Supreme Court of Common Sense and no sheriff can keep the peace quite so perfect as Understanding.

Gradyville.

We will meet you at the Columbia Fair.

We had a fine rain last Wednesday.

W. C. Hill attended the camp meeting at Mell several days of last week.

L. Davis, of Portland, was in our midst last Thursday.

Uncle Charlie Yates attended court at Columbia last Monday.

Strong Hill is putting in a new mill at Price's Creek.

Mrs. Sallie Sherrill spent several days of last week, visiting relatives, in the Milltown community.

W. B. Hill, Austin Wilmore and Ed Hill spent last Sunday in Columbia.

Dr. J. A. Yates, of Edmonton, was in our midst a day or so of last week.

Rev. W. C. Christie is holding a series of meetings at Summer-shade church at this time. We understand there is great interest manifested.

Our people have put in the most of the time for the past few days in working the roads in all directions going out from this place.

J. F. Pendleton, of Greensburg, was here a day or so of last week buying sheep and cattle at the market price. Mr. Pendleton is a liberal buyer and our people like to sell him their stock.

On last Sunday, on the banks of Russell creek in Portland, gathered over five hundred people, to witness the baptism administered to seventeen candidates, by Rev. Sanders, of the Baptist church.

Quite a number from here attended the sale of W. C. Yates' property at Portland. We understand that everything brought its full value. Mr. and Mrs. Yates will remove to Campbells-ville at once.

J. Q. Alexander, the well-known dry goods man of Campbells-ville, was in our midst a day or so of last week and as usual had a good business on his trip.

Alfred Parson sold, last week, one of the finest calves that ever went out of town, for $30. It was a perfect model in every respect. R. L. Caldwell, of Milltown was the purchaser.

W. L. Grady bought an extra fine yearling colt last week from Jesse Breeding, of the Nell community, for $150. We must say here that L. H. Fielders has one of the finest colts that we have ever had in this section of country. It is a perfect model in every respect. It will certainly make you open your eyes when you see him on exhibition at the Columbia fair next week. W. L. Grady, a fine judge of horse says it is the finest one ever in this part of old Adair. Be sure and see him at the fair and be convinced.

We had a very quiet election here and all are perfectly satisfied with the result. We are that kind of Democrats in this section. Whoever, the grand old party says is the strongest man, that is the one we all will support just as heartily as if we had got our choice and it is the same way in our school election. When the mist is cleared away and the announcement is made of the one that received the majority of our voters, we are all for him and will help him in all of his undertakings for a good teacher and a good school. That is the kind of people we are in this neck of the woods.

WAR SITUATION.

Houston, Tex. Aug. 12.—Gov. Ferguson, of Texas, last night telegraphed President Wilson, asking him to double the number of Federal troops now on duty in the Rio Grand valley. He says conditions are "perilous and grave."

Gov. Ferguson, in the telegram recites the fact that citizens are murdered and property looted and continues:

"The offenders are mostly Mexicans from across the border and only a few are American citizens."

"I have increased our ranger forces almost to the maximum and yet, on account of the great area of disturbed districts it is doubtful if I can longer control the situation. I do not overdraw the picture when I say that a reign of terror exists on the Mexican border and that an unusual occurrence now would cause a disastrous invasion of Texas from Mexico."

Thomas Fowler, owner of the only store at Katherine, Willacy county, reported that a band of thirty or more Mexicans made an attack on the store to-day. They were surprised by the return of their fire from twelve United States Infantrymen who had been stationed in the store and the Mexicans quickly retired to cover and escape. It is thought two of the bandits were injured.

Berlin, Aug. 12 (via London, 4:35 p. m.).—Austro-German forces pursuing the Russians who are retreating from the Warsaw salient have occupied Lukow, according to official announcement by the German headquarters staff to-day. Zambrowo also has been captured, the statement adds.

The text of the statement follows:

"Western theater of war: In the Argonne, north of Vienna-le-Chateau, we captured a French group of fortified positions and took seventy-four unwounded prisoners, including two officers. We also captured two machine guns and seven mine throwers. The enemy suffered heavy losses."
